Footnote: Castle Huntly was built around 1452 by Baron Gray of Fowlis under licence from James II of Scotland. the Castle changed hands in 1614 when it was acquired by the then Earl of Strathmore who changed its name to Castle Lyon.
In the 1770's, the Castle was sold by the widow of the 7th Earl of Strathmore to George Paterson of the East India Company who also changed the name back to Castle Huntly. The Castle left the hands of the Paterson family in 1946 after the death of Colonel Adrian Gordon Paterson when his wife sold the Castle to the Government.
